Bespoke Trailer-Dock Steel Safety Platforms

Bespoke trailer loading and unloading platforms purpose built to suit your needs.

Step section can be 45° or 60° as shown here and can be full width of platform or narrower if preferred. Can also be both ends or even in the middle at right angles.

Guardrails can be fixed or removable and are normally 1100mm high. Integral toeplates are usually supplied on all rails.

A handed pair to fit either side of trailer.

Deck material is typically open steel mesh as here but can be solid chequer plate if required.

When supplied for factory use against machinery, screw jack legs are often fitted for exact levelling and additional braking.

Long units are usually supplied in two sections for easier transport then bolted together on site.

Units are spray painted (red, blue, yellow) as standard but can be hot-dip galvanised if preferred for maximum protection when continually outdoors.

Locking swivel castors are usually rubber tyred as shown but can have heavier duty polyurethane wheels if more suitable for site conditions. Again, screw jack legs can be fitted where necessary for fine levelling and extra braking.
